A French Romance.

One night in 1801 a little girl about one year old was left at the foundling hospital at Brest. She was well dressed and a note pinned to her skirts stated that her name was Solange, and that she would eventually be reclaimed by her father. She grew up, however, unclaimed, and extraordinary lovely. But her intellect appeared to be weak and she suffered from fits or nervousness. At twelve she was sent into the streets to sell flowers, until her health failed and she died. According to a custom in the district she was buried in a wicker basket, and, it being winter and the soil hard, a very slight excavation was made and sand thrown lightly over. During the night she revived from the trance which had been mistaken for death, and at length crept from the grave, and crossing the ground between the cemetery and the fortifications, she was stopped by the sentinels "Qui Vive," and, not answering, fired at, very slightly wounded and brought into the guard house. Her beauty made an intense impression on a rich young officer named Kramer, who sent her to school in Paris. For four years he was tossed about in the war, but on returning found Solange an accomplished girl, without a trace of the nervous debility which had afflicted her. They married and lived happily in Paris. At length Capt. Kramer learned that inquiries were being made at Brest as to what had become of the girl at the foundling hospital in 1801, and that these inquiries were made at the instance of the Swedish ambassador, with whom Capt. Kramer communicated. The result was that a month later Mme. Kramer received a formal acknowledgment from Marshal Bernadotte, afterward Charles XIV of Sweden, that she was his daughter. They subsequently settled in Stockholm, were ennobled, and their son became an attaché to the Swedish legation at Paris.

Agriculture for Girls.

France has agricultural schools for girls. One of the chief is near Rouen, which is said to have been begun with a capital of one franc by a Sister of Charity, and two little discharged prisoner girls, and to be now worth $100,000. This establishment has 300 girls from 8 to 18. The farm, entirely cultivated by them, is over 400 acres in extent. The staff of teachers consists of twenty-five sisters. More than one medal of the French Agricultural Society has been awarded to this establishment at Darnetel, and the pupils are in great demand all over Normandy on account of their skill. They go out as stewards, gardeners, farm managers, dairy women and laundresses. Each girl has, on leaving, an outfit and a small sum of money, earned in spare hours. If they want a home they can return to Darnetel.

The United States pension office has such an insufficient force of clerks that it may take years to dispose of the business now on hand.

Truth Prevails, and Time Tells!

Arguments to defend self-interest, and reasons based upon statements, do not by any means convey a fact.

FACTS!

must be practically demonstrated, and time is the great factor to bring about the required result.

If any of our competitors and would-be manufacturers tell you in flaring advertisements we manufacture our own goods and, therefore, sell cheaper than anybody else, ask them the following questions:

1. WHY IS IT THEY NEVER MAKE A SUCCESS IN ESTABLISHING A PERMANENT TRADE?
2. WHAT ARE THEY MOVING THEIR STORES FOR FROM ONE PLACE TO ANOTHER?
3. WHY DON'T THEY STAY WHERE SUCCESS HAS BEEN ACHIEVED?

Customers don't care whether we manufacture our own Clothing or not, as long as we can furnish them with a line of goods superior in fit and general make up at lower figures than any of our competitors.

The steady increase of our business speaks louder than mere words.

JUST THINK OF IT!

Our Factory and Storehouse is in Chicago!

One of the partners resides in Chicago!

All our Clothing is manufactured by us under his personal supervision!

If any bargain is in the market, he is there to secure it!

The ready cash is always at his disposal!

We buy our material direct from the producer!

We do not buy for one, but for many stores in large quantities, and thus are certain of the Lowest Price!

We sell direct to the consumer for Cash, and do not contract bad debts which have to be made up large profits!

We return the money if Goods do not give satisfaction!

WHY, OF COURSE, THESE ARE REASONS ENOUGH WHY IT IS THAT WE SELL LOWER THAN ANY OTHER HOUSE.

1. We have demonstrated the fact of our success by a constant increase of our stock, and by the constant envy of our would-be competitors.

2. We have demonstrated the fact of our permanence by increasing the facilities for selling in proportion as the number of our customers increased, and that we need now so much room and moved to larger quarters, is as much as a beam in the eye of our competitor.

3. We stay where we have made our success, in the building corner of Water and Main streets, in the block, the name of which has become a by-word in every household in the country—"CHEAP CHARLEY'S CORNER."

4. Although through with No. 1, 2 and 3, we add a 4, and are ready to go on till 13, 14, 15. Now under No. 4 we will explain some of the rules which guide us in business and which added to our success: A—Before all we attend to our own affairs, even so far as to write out our own advertisements—never allow anybody else to do it for us; believing ourselves able to manufacture them, as we manufacture our own clothing. B—We never allow stock to grow old on our hands, and to enable us to keep it fresh assorted at all time, we must do a certain amount of business. Now if we open a new branch in a town which proves not to be able to secure us that much trade, we move our stock to another place where we do find it. Sometimes we make a mistake in selecting the right town, but that cannot be helped. Among so many good towns in the west must be also some poor ones, like among so many precious good stones, it happens once in the while to find one that is not worth taking notice of. We defy anybody to falsify the above facts.

CONVENTION CONTRASTS.

The contrasts between the Republican convention at Chicago and the Democratic convention at Cincinnati are, in many particulars, so marked as to be startling. At Chicago the delegates who were cheered when they entered the hall were men like Conkling, Logan and Garfield, who had been identified with the struggle to preserve the Union.

At Cincinnati the delegate to receive the most cheers is Wade Hampton, prominent because of his fight against the Union. At Chicago the delegates from the south represented the hopes of the old Union men of that section, and the aspirations of the ex-slaves; at Cincinnati the Southern delegates come, almost exclusively, from the men who served in the Confederate army, or who were in sympathy with it, or from the class that has made it a duty to persecute the ex-slaves and thwart their aspirations. At Chicago the States most potential were those which sent the greatest number of men to the Union army; but at Cincinnati the faction most prominent in all combinations is the section that raised and supported the Confederate army.

In the Chicago convention every man prominent as a leader was noted for his hostility to secession and the party of secession. In the Cincinnati convention the leaders most prominent and popular have been noted for their open support of secession or for their secret sympathy for the party of secession.

Among the distinguished visitors to the Chicago convention were men like General Sheridan, Senator Hamlin and Fred Douglass. Among the honored guests at Cincinnati are men like Ben Hill, General Gordon, Senator Lamar, J. Randolph Tucker, Judge Reagan, General Walker, Governor Blackburn and General Wheeler, all ex-Confederates. Among the Vice Presidents of the Chicago convention was Senator Bruce, of Miss., sole representative of the colored race in Congress. Among the Vice Presidents of the Cincinnati convention is Hamburg Butler, who, judged by his acts, is one of the most inveterate enemies of the colored race.

The impulse of the Chicago convention was towards the old Union leaders, and all the associations of the meeting were linked with memories of the struggle against slavery and the war against secession. The impulse of the Cincinnati convention is to belittle the work of the Union leaders. To magnify merit of the Confederates, and to court an alliance with the associates and advisers of Jeff Davis. Old veterans among Northern Democrats have given up leadership to men like Hampton, Butler, Lamar, Hill and Gordon. The convention represents the wishes and purposes of the old Confederate leaders rather than the desires and aims of Democrats like Hendricks, Ewing, Thurman and McDonald. The men in the foreground are those who have made the south solid, and who have the power to turn the 138 electoral votes of that section over to the Democratic candidate. Because this is so, the convention is the rallying point for the men who, in 1865, surrendered at Appomattox, or went flying through the south in an attempt to escape to Mexico or Europe. The ticket nominated will represent the hopes and purposes of this dominant faction, and the spirit manifested in Congress shows in what direction these hopes tend. The Chicago ticket represents the constituents; the ticket stood by Abraham Lincoln during the war. The Cincinnati ticket represents the will of the States which, on the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln, withdrew from the Union. If Garfield and Arthur are elected, the work of Lincoln is to be completed. If the other ticket is elected, the country is to go peacefully into the hands of the men who fought for four years to destroy it.

The New Fast Mail. The postoffice department is about to attempt an new arrangement in the railroad mail-service that will prove a great benefit to Illinois. A morning mail train now leaves New York at six o'clock in the morning, and it is proposed to have an extra train start via the New York Central at 8:30, or two and a half hours later, running fast enough to overtake the first train at Toledo for Chicago mail. This will practically save a day, for now what does not get on the first train, which arrives at 5:40 a. m. in Chicago, does not reach there till after business hours, and is not available till the next day. West of Toledo the train will continue to run fast, in order to accomplish the same time for St. Louis. If successful, the time saved will be practically twenty-four hours for all points west of Missouri and the Pacific coast.

Or the demonstration of welcome to Wade Hampton at Cincinnati, a correspondent of the New York Tribune says: "No doubt there was real sentiment in the cheers; there seemed to be, and no doubt nine-tenths of those who cheered, including the men who sprang from their seats and swung their hats, supposed that this brave soldier had left his leg upon the field of battle, and were ignorant that he lost it by the ignominious kick of an inglorious mule in piping times of peace."

The Democratic platform declares that the Democratic party loves and cherishes the noble workingman. That is why the second place on the Democratic ticket was given to Mr. English, of Indiana, a bloated capitalist who earns his bread by the sweat of his government bonds.

HANCOCK AS A POLITICAL LEADER.

The Chicago Times of yesterday thus discourses upon the nominee of the Cincinnati convention:

But it is not a nomination that can be said to fulfill the party's opportunity. It never had a more favorable opportunity to bring to the front a new political leader; one who would give promise of leading the party out of the old political graveyard and onward to a new and hopeful future of political activity. General Hancock has furnished no evidence of good capacity for political leadership. As the Times said of him yesterday, he is nothing but a soldier, and not a very brilliant one at that. Educated for the profession of arms, he has always pursued that profession, and rose by personal gallantry during the civil war to the rank of a major general; though he never held an independent command, and never gained a victory. It was when commander of the military district of New Orleans, in 1867, that he chiefly gained public note by the tenor of his military orders, declaring that the true function of the military, after armed rebellion had been put down, was to uphold the civil power in the normal exercise of its functions. This, he said, would be the guiding principle of his action; but he at the same time announced that any forcible obstruction of the laws would be "instantly suppressed by arms." These orders were put forth with a good deal of declamatory flourish about "free institutions" and "the great principles of American liberty," a style of superficial magniloquence that greatly tickled the effusive Southerners, and led them to regard General Hancock as a "northern man with southern ideas." Ever since, the Southern politicians have been favorably inclined toward him as a Presidential possibility—a circumstance not likely to strengthen his candidacy at the North. His name was brought before the convention of 1868; but the objection of presenting a man who was nothing but a soldier in opposition to one who, though also nothing but a soldier, was a more famous one, caused it to be received with little favor. It was then believed to be the true policy of the party to present an eminent civilian, of known capacity, for political leadership. The foundation of that belief was good in 1868, and is equally good now. If the party at Cincinnati had fulfilled its opportunity, it would have chosen for its leader a statesman, not a mere soldier.

As regards the military record of the two men, General Hancock and Mr. Garfield may be regarded as standing on the same platform. Their military records are perhaps equally good. But, while one stands on nothing but his military record, the other has gained his widest reputation as one of the foremost among the ablest of our living statesmen. The nomination of a soldier with a good war record, whose fidelity to the national cause is unassailable, will go far to suppress any "bloody-shirt" character of the canvass. The rejection of Mr. Tilden take the hypocritical "fraud issue" out of the combat. What remains? There remain the important political questions that have been raised by the action, or attempted reaction, of this Congress. Upon these political questions it is now more than ever likely the Presidential canvass will be conducted. Evidently, in such a controversy, the party that has taken for its leader a statesman who has shown himself to be one of its very ablest leaders, will enter the contest with an important advantage over the party that has passed by all its statesmen and taken for its standard-bearer a soldier with no experience or known faculty of political leadership.

Therefore it is that the nomination of General Hancock is a mistake, if not a blunder. He is not the man for leader of a political party in this, or in any other, political emergency.

THERE is no mistaking what the Democrats want. They want to abolish the registry law.

They want no supervisors of elections at the polls.

They want no United States deputy marshals to preserve order at elections.

They want to control the negro vote.

They want entire possession and control of the electoral count for president, contrary to constitutional law and precedent.

They want their own way, and as long as they have a solid south they are going to have it, even if it should require violence to accomplish their ends. In 1861 two-thirds of the Democratic party wanted "to be let alone."

In 1871 the national expenditures were $292,000,000, and in 1846 $258,000,000. In five years, under General Grant's administration, the expenses were reduced $34,000,000. The Democrats then obtained control of the house, and as a result the expenditures for 1890 are $298,000,000. At the rate of reduction which was going on as a consequence of a settled Republican policy of wise economy, the annual expenditures would now be about $230,000,000. Democratic ascendancy in Congress is therefore costing the people $68,000,000. We hazard nothing in saying that the benefits derived from Democratic legislation are small out of all proportion to the price paid for them. It will be better for the people to elect a Republican Congress and save their money.—Globe-Democrat.

The Situation in the Fifteenth District.

WASHINGTON WAIFS.

KANSAS, Ill., June 25.—The political aspect of the fifteenth congressional district presents a striking medley. The present incumbent in congress is the Rev. Albert P. Forsyth, who was elected on the consolidated greenback-republican ticket two years ago, when the unpopular Judge Decius succeeded the Hon. John R. Eden as candidate for congress. This district usually gives a handsome democratic majority. The democrats of Edgar county are pushing the claims of "Bob" Bishop, of Paris, as he is familiarly known, while Shelby county glories in the strength that the Hon. Samuel Moulton, of Shelbyville, will give to the ticket. But then, Moulton county holds an aspirant at Sullivan, in the person of the Hon. John R. Eden, who has held a public office for the past twenty years. Hon. Andy J. Hunter, of Paris, a life-long democrat who ran for congress four years ago on the independent ticket, and finally withdrew from the race, said to a Journal reporter that "John Eden is the weakest man that can be nominated at the democratic convention in July, and Judge Moulton is the strongest." Hon. A. P. Forsyth was elected by a majority of 140, which included the republican, greenback and a few democratic votes. One hundred and fifty votes were not counted, as Forsyth's name was spelled incorrectly.

The probability is that the Republicans will not nominate a man for this campaign, but will consolidate on Forsyth, as he seems to be the most eligible candidate at present. When it did not conflict with his views on the currency question, Mr. Forsyth has voted with the Republicans in Congress. The report has been circulated, during the past week, that Forsyth was formerly a Democrat, and prominent Democrats called on the father of the Congressman, who resides in this town, to learn the facts. In early life Mr. Forsyth voted the Democratic ticket in Southern Indiana. He joined the Southeast Indiana conference, and on the second circuit he traveled he was riding to his appointment one day, and soliloquized as follows: "I am a Methodist preacher and a Democrat; the two do not harmonize." And Mr. Forsyth has not voted the Democratic ticket since that notable event referred to.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Secretary of War to-day suspended the recommendation of the West Point Academy board that Whitaker be dropped on account of deficiency in his studies. This will give him an opportunity of demanding a court martial in his case, if he desires to vindicate himself. If he should be dismissed now he would have no chance of being further heard. The President has arrived, and will leave to-morrow morning for New Haven, where he will attend the commencement exercises of Yale College, and remain the greater part of next week.

NORTH ADAMS, MASS., June 25.—The facts regarding the reports of the caving in of the central shaft of Moosac Tunnel are as follows: Yesterday morning, about 1 o'clock, the timbers of the upper flooring of the central shaft which have been precipitating a large quantity of timber and such fragments of rock as had collected on it for the past five years. Luckily the workmen were not near at the time, and no trains passing. Trains were delayed about four hours, until the rubbish was removed. There was naturally great excitement over the reports, and all sorts of exaggerated stories circulated. There is no damage, as removing of the flooring was about to be made.

For the Republican.

WAS THE WRONG MAN PUNISHED?

EDITORS REPUBLICAN: I see in your paper of the 21st, an article signed W. R. Goodwin, purporting to be an answer to my query, viz: Was the wrong man punished when Barney Tighe was killed?

I do not understand that the Dr. exactly answered my question. He almost insinuates that liquor vendors the officers licensing such, and voters electing such men to office had some responsibility to answer for, when they will know at the time of the multiplied evils that (he says) always follow them. I wish to inform the Dr. that I am well acquainted with the respectable class of those men, and I never conversed with any one of them on the subject who did not fully admit the evils of drunkenness, and the many calamities and dangers arising from a free or even moderate use of liquor, and declare himself strongly in favor of temperance.

As evidence that they are not only sincere, but actually working for temperance, the cause they pronounce good, as every citizen should do something for a good move and oppose all that is bad, I can cite you to many things they do, the chief of which is, to every year vote for licensing whisky saloons, their regulators. They are reasonable men, wanting no man to drink more than he thinks will do him good. None of your fanatics who want all stopped, and say the only safety is in letting it alone, and having none in sight. I want Dr. Goodwin to know that men are men. That men do not retail whisky for the purpose of making men drunk, to result in their death. They want their customers to live, and return to their sa-

The first presentation of Steam and Cross's new comedy, "Our Gentlemen Friends," by George Holland, Owen Favest and others, will occur at the opera house in this city on Tuesday evening next. The piece is an excellent one for warm weather, having just enough plot and argument to make it interesting, and still not heavy enough to make it burdensome. It is full of ridiculous situations, witty dialogue and strongly-drawn characters, and in the hands of the Holland company it becomes a very decided dramatic attraction. The plot of the piece arises from numerous matrimonial complications, and the endeavors of ambitious mothers to marry off their eligible daughters, aided by the efforts of those hopeful offspring make the piece intensely amusing. Secure seats at Curtis & Ewing's.

It is semi-officially announced that on July 1st the Wabash road reduces its passenger tariff east of St. Louis to three cents a mile, and on that date 'his road will place on sale over its entire line round trip tickets between any and all points. This move will prove a popular one, and will be of immense convenience to the traveling public. This will force competition of the Wabash road back to the issuing of round trip tickets. By this schedule of rates the fare from Decatur to St. Louis will be $3.80, a reduction of $1.40. Hail the day!

FRANK McEvoy and Dennis Hardy got into an altercation on the south side of the city park, this afternoon. They called each other hard names, blows were passed, and in the melee Frank drew a knife, or razor, and cut Dennis on the bone on his left hand, severing one of the veins causing a considerable flow of blood, splattering the pavement from near the Water street corner to Dr. Stoner's drug store where Dennis went to have the wound attended by the doctor. No arrests had been made at this writing.

THE officers yesterday failed to find ED F. FUNK, who is charged by Benjamin Wentworth with assault and battery near Warrensburg recently, and therefore the examination did not take place before Justice Curtis. The witnesses against FUNK were on hand, but as 'Haulet' was absent Manager Curtis could not put 'the play on the boards. It is thought that FUNK is hiding. LARRY—FUNK was captured this forenoon. He will have his examination before Curtis June 30th and is now at liberty under $500 bonds.

A BUSINESS man, approached by an interviewer and asked why he didn't move in the matter of getting up a 4th of July blow out in this city, rather hotly replied "Oh get out! What have we to do with the 4th of July. Decatur was a blasted no-nonsense when the declaration of independence was drawn up and signed!" Such sledge hammer argument is unsavory, but Decatur will celebrate all the same, but very mildly.

A FESTIVAL for the benefit of the House of Prayer (formerly the Rolling Mill Chapel), will be given at the hall of Eldorado Hose Co No 2 Thursday evening, July 1st. Do not fail to attend, for excellent refreshments, good music and a pleasant evening's enjoyment are promised for all.

TURNER is some talk of getting up a $250 excursion from Decatur to Indianapolis on July 4th—train to leave this city Saturday morning and return on the night of the 4th. How many here would take it to do you think? That's the question that the to be manager wants answered.

WE direct the attention of our readers to the report of the condition of the Decatur National Bank, which appears in another column of to day's issue. This bank is one of the solid institutions of Decatur and flourishes like a green bay tree.

A SMALL boy was noticed going about the streets this afternoon trying to sell Hancock and English badges, but nobody seemed to be crying for them. The boy went two blocks through a crowd and did not sell a badge. Bad speculation, that!

JUST mention to a very young lawyer that his name has been named as the orator at some 4th of July celebration, and he is immediately boosted into the high altitude of celestial bliss. 'Tis a pardonable pride.

STONK ROOM, near Shellabarger's mill, for rent, good location for drug store, grocery, bakery, barber shop or meat market. Apply to JOHN A. BROWN, Attorney at Law 26 d&w.

THIS board for reserved seats to the Jubilee Concert, on Friday night, will be opened at Curtis & Ewing's, on Monday morning. Tickets, 50c, no extra charge for reserved seats.

THE Garfield Club will be organized for active campaign work during next week. About all the voters in the city have signed the call. Mighty thin picking left for the mossbacks.

THE pastors of the city are requested to meet next Monday morning at 9 o'clock at Dr. Goodwin's study, on business of importance.

THE Illinois Central Railroad company will sell tickets on July 3, 4 and 5, good for return until July 6, from all stations on its lines, at a fare and a third.

DECATUR will be thronged with country folks next Saturday to see Van Amburgh's show. It will doubtless be a field day for the merchants generally.

MACON county refunding bonds to the amount of $20,000 were registered in the auditor's office at Springfield on Friday.

LINCOLN's population is reported at 50,000, being an increase of 800 souls in ten years. Not so bad.

PUNS on the name of the democratic nominee for president provoke much merriment on the streets.

Donator to Chicago.

The early completion and opening of the Chicago division of the Wabash Railway is anxiously awaited by not only the people of this community but by the great army of traveling and commercial men as well. It was intended by the management of the road to have the line in operation by June 1st of the present year, but owing to a bewildering complication of circumstances, involving a considerable outlay of money and loss of time, the opening of the line has not as yet been accomplished. We learn from the Chicago Tribune of a recent date, that the stockholders of the Chicago and St. Louis Railway (Chicago extension of the Wabash) held a meeting at Chicago and passed resolutions authorizing the consolidation of that road with the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific Railway Company. The Chicago and St. Louis was built by the owners of the Chicago and Paducah, the Wabash purchased the latter on condition that it should build the extension from St. Louis to Chicago. The new extension was completed some months ago, and the action named above was necessary to complete the bargain. The Tribune gives the following as the reason for the delay in opening the road.

"The Wabash would now be ready to commence business to and from this city but for the obstacles in the way of the completion of the Chicago and Western Indiana, with which line it has a contract for coming into the heart of the city. It is understood that the Wabash is now negotiating for the purchase of the Chicago and Western Indiana. The officials of the Wabash think, if they own the road, the obstacles in the way of its completion can be better overcome. Its principal opponent is Mr. Vanderhilt, who refuses to allow the Western Indiana to cross the track of the Lake Shore road. They say if they own the road, they will be able to bring Vanderhilt to terms, and when the sixteenth street crossing has been made they can reach their depots now in course of erection on Twelfth street and Third Avenue.

Death of Mrs. Samuel C. Allen.

After a painful illness, extending through about three months, the primary cause of which was a congestive chill, followed by typhoid pneumonia and a spinal affection, Mrs. Jane L. Allen, wife of Mr. Samuel C. Allen, died at the family residence on East William street, at 9 o'clock last night. The funeral will take place from the family residence this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

The deceased was born in London county Virginia, about 1830. She resided for a number of years in Ohio, and came to Decatur on a visit about 21 years ago as the widow of Mr. Read. She became acquainted with Mr. Allen, whom she subsequently married. She was a most estimable christian lady, and was a member of the Methodist Church in her youth. A kinder hearted woman, a more devoted mother and a better wife never lived, and her demise is deeply lamented by a large number of relatives and hosts of neighbors and friends. She leaves a husband and five sons—Edward, William, Orville and Frankie Allen, and Charles Read.

Correction.

Hermann Post will not be 59 years of age to-morrow as stated yesterday. He is now in his 34th year, and we were maliciously misinformed that he would celebrate his birthday Sunday by having Wilhelm's hand at his residence and 'two or more kegs of foaming beer'. He will not do anything of the kind and the party who misinformed our reporter is deserving of a severe thrumping for thus wilfully slandering Mr. Post as he did Mr. Post never permits beer drinking at his house, and will not so long as he is the head of the family. This correction is made in justice to Mr. Post, who naturally feels hurt on account of the unfortunate bit of "pleasantry" which appeared in our issue of yesterday.

VERY severe neuralgia is almost epidemic in and about Bloomington, and the malady is of the most persistent type, baffling the efforts of the physicians, who look upon it as a malarial trouble, produced by the wetness of the season. We hear of no such complaints in Decatur as the season has been unusually dry.

THE Gospel temperance celebrations will not take place at the grove near T. A. Brown's country residence, on Sunday, July 4th, but at Blue Mound Chapel. Make a note of this.

MR. J. C. PATTERSON, who represents the P. F. Collier Publishing Co., is in the city canvassing for Moore's Poetical Works, Burns' Poems, Byron, Carlyle, Dickens, and Knight's Pictorial Edition of Shakespeare's Works, also all the Standard Religious Works. This firm sells all their books on the installment plan, viz a small payment when the books are delivered, and the balance monthly until paid. This is a rare chance to buy nice books, at a merely nominal price, and their terms of payment place the works in reach of all. [25 d&w]

A T.

Attention Sir Knights! We have on approval the most complete line of Knight Templar charms ever shown in Decatur. We will sell any of them at unusually low prices for the next ten days, after which time we will have to return them to the factory. Call in and see them and get prices before you attend the Trenchard. Respectfully, CURTIS & EWING, Jewelers June 21—d&w.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Miss Lida Brown, of Normal, is visiting friends in Decatur.

Thos. Fahey, Jr., the St. Louis horse buyer, is at the St. Nicholas.

R. Eugene Pratt went to Indianapolis on grain business night before last.

Mrs. C. W. Smith, of Nashville, Tenn., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. B. Dingess.

Enumerators Dr. C. N. Dennison makes the population of Friends Creek township 1476, a decrease of 62 in ten years.

E. S. Crull, late with the L. P. & C. road, has been appointed train dispatcher on the I. D. & S. road.

Enumerators J. W. Emery reports the population of Austin township at 944 an increase of 213 in ten years.

Mrs. Alex. Montgomery and daughter arrived home last evening, after a three weeks' stay among friends at Chicago.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. and Mrs. John A. Brockway are quite seriously ill at their home on West Cerro Gordo street.

Census taker S. S. Mountz says the population of Illinois township is 1,293. In 1870 the township had 821 inhabitants, and Mountz' count shows a gain of 472—50 per cent in ten years.

Theron Powers was one of the judges at the Jockey Club races at Chicago this week. Volturno is entered for the Saratoga races and has been shipped to that fashionable watering place.

John B. McDonald has opened out in the restaurant and refreshment business at his old stand on the West side of the old square. He says he is anchored now for the summer and 1890 political campaign.

William Pringle, the veteran business manager of Sprague's Original Georgia Minstrels, arrived home last evening. This celebrated company closed for the summer at New York two weeks ago. Will start out again about August 15.

Rev. A. H. Chittenden, pastor of the United Brethren Church, who has been enjoying a vacation of three weeks among friends at Hartsville, Ind., returned home this morning, and will occupy his pulpit to-morrow. He appears to have been greatly benefited by his trip. His family will return in about a month.

L. Block, Esq. and Mr. Jacob Block, the father and baby brother of Mrs. Moritz of the Cheap Store are visiting here, and they seem to enjoy their sojourn in our little city well enough to take it in over the better part of next week.

Mr. F. B. is a fair specimen of Young America—Buckeye grit. Though quite youthful he has already acquired a partnership in the wholesale establishment of Abe Block & Co., one of the rising establishments of the famous Porkopolis. May he live long and prosper.

H. F. Day a Hancock man of Moawaqua has returned from the Cincinnati convention and breakfasted at the Saint Nicholas this morning. He is opposed to the mud throwing policy adopted by the democratic press and hopes and expects the people will vote for principles, not men which the same they will do on Nov. 2, and Garfield and Arthur will go into the white house a flying. They represent the party of liberty to all—the party whose measures have revived business throughout the country and made the United States one of the best governments on earth.

D. McKenzie in writing up a careful sketch of the newspapers of the city and county for the forthcoming illustrated history of Macon county, is sweating and doing his level best to get the bottom facts in connection with G. T. Kimball's checkered career in Decatur. He had almost given up in hopeless despair, but by carefully looking over the REPUBLICAN files he feels that he is now pretty reliably informed, and is thankful that there is at least one paper in Decatur—and only one—whose files are kept in good shape and date back to 1867. The files of the REPUBLICAN from its birth are nicely bound, and everybody is at liberty to look them over at his pleasure. As a reliable history of passing events of personal interest to the people of this county, the REPUBLICAN has no equal, and our files are therefore of incalculable value to the community generally.

LADIES are invited to call on Miss Woodward, agent for the Dressmaker's Magic Scale, at Miss Dodson's parlors, and investigate this system of cutting. You can fit any one, child or adult, without having to change seams, darts or tucking neck or armhole. Ask the following named persons for their opinions: Miss Addie Millsap, South Franklin street, Miss May Beck, Merchant st., Mrs. M. Drake, East William st., Minnie Schuyler at Mrs. Stewart's, over P. O. Mrs. Dodson, Merchant st., and many others. 26 d&w.

Great CLEARANCE SALE of Dry Goods will COMMENCE TO-DAY, the object of which is to reduce stock preparatory to moving into our new Store.

EVERYTHING, except a few Staple Articles, will be reduced to such extent as to render our sale worthy the attention of everybody who wishes to buy the most and best goods for the least money.

LINN & SCRUGGS.

June 26, 1880.

WE would like to keep in the mind of EVERY ONE the fact of our stock being SUPERIOR in both quality and quantity to any in the city. Our sales are such as to enable us to offer everything NEW as fast as it comes out and at prices lower than those whose purchases are much smaller than ours. We can always offer you a "SELECTION" in ANYTHING in our line and at prices we will guarantee cannot be beaten in Illinois.

We are the SOLE AGENTS here for the celebrated "ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN WATCHES," the standard "GORHAM STERLING SOLID SILVERWARE," as well as the "GORHAM PLATED TABLE WARE," also, "KING'S COMBINATION CRYSTAL" SPECTACLES.

We are always glad to show our Goods and have their quality and our prices compared to any in Decatur or anywhere. By giving us a call you will find OUR ADVERTISEMENT always true to the letter. Respectfully,

CURTIS & EWING, JEWELERS, 17 E. MAIN ST., DECATUR, ILL.
